By WALTER M. BARRETT

The big Fourth of July celebration is the talk of the town. The unseasonal weather has not dampened the spirits of the firemen and each day finds interest gaining, foretelling the success of the fete. The firemen are loud in their praises for the assistance rendered through contributions, without which they would be unable to stage the affair. Everywhere, they declare, they have met with splendid response. Unable themselves to financially support the program, the firemen are willing to give freely of their time and efforts, asking only that the business interests stand the cost.

There are, no doubt, many people who do not care for celebrations, but for those Truckee and Lake Tahoe have just the prescription for a day's pleasure and escape from the daily grind. Ideal climate, beautiful scenery, marvelous fishing, good hiking and all other forms of clean, invigorating outdoor recreation. The celebration will be a big drawing card, but the natural beauty which is ours can not be minimized.

The duties of a traffic officer are indeed varied in the Tahoe area. When two prominent bay youngsters became lost and strayed far up Blackwood creek the other night, Patrolman Gene Walker, despite a tough day on his beat, led the posse through the black canyon until 2 a. m. trailing the children by flashlight for several miles. The posse waded deep streams, tore clothing and ruined shoes in the search, but did not quit until the children were safe with their parents.

Stage Set For Celebration Of Fourth Of July

Firemen's Program Promise To Offer Fun for All On Holiday

QUEEN CONTEST CLOSE

Horse Races, Show To Be Among Many Features In Truckee

Cheered by a sudden change in the weather, which for the past several days has been somewhat inclement, committees from the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department have redoubled their efforts in promoting the big Fourth of July celebration which will start here Saturday night with a dance at Masonic Hall and which is scheduled to carry on until Monday evening.

Several amateur boxers have signed up for the fights on Sunday night at the arena in the Plaza, erected this week by CIO members, assisting in the preparations, according to Elmo Granata who is in charge of this event.

The Goddess of Liberty Contest, the outstanding feature of the celebration is getting warmer as the voting centers on the two leading contestants—Miss Stella Zorich and Miss Ruth Moore. With the contest ending at 9 tonight, Miss Zorich is leading with 7900 votes while Miss Moore has 7449.

Clair Goode, in charge of the horse show and racing events, announced that at least a dozen entries and probably more would gather at the Southern Pacific stock corral in the east part of town Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock where races and other events will take place.

The prizes for the horse events are on display in Loynd's Truckee Drug windows. They include an engraved roper's bit, gold and silver bronc spurs and a silver mounted bridle. In the events for boys under 15 a pair of valuable spurs donated by Goode, a handsome pair of cowboy boots, a donation from Elmo Granata and a hand-carved belt from Vern Shattuck, will be the prizes.

Most of the events will be held on the Southern Pacific Plaza, that company having offered to permit the use of its grounds for all the events.

A band and orchestra has been engaged and will play concerts on the platform Sunday and Monday and for the dances Saturday and Sunday nights.

Official program of the celebration may be obtained from any member of the fire department and will be available in the stores, Fire Chief N. F. Dolley, general chairman of the celebration announced.

The streets and many of the store fronts have been decorated in preparation for the celebration and everything points to success for the big event.

A carnival company has asked permission to install here during the celebration to add to the program.

Two parades are programmed for Monday, the main parade in the morning at 10 o'clock and the parade of the horrors that evening.

Plans Completed For Legion Hall As Site Bought

Work Expected To Start As Details Completed For Building

ON McGLASHAN SITE

Architect Here To Discuss Plans For Streamlined Structure

Truckee's proposed new American Legion Memorial hall, to cost approximately $41,000 may be started within the next 30 days if plans formulated at a meeting of the building committee of the local post and a Sacramento architect this week are culminated.

The site, on the McGlashan property overlooking Truckee on the north, has been purchased and the plans for the proposed structure have been approved.

Actual work awaits the outcome of an application for a PWA grant of $18,000 to match the sum of $20,000 already on hand in the county treasury for the Truckee building, it was announced by Frank Kinne, the finance officer of the local post, who presided at the meeting this week.

The architect has prepared the plans for the building which will be of two story, concrete construction.

Hopes that the building would be a solution to the problem of a gymnasium for the young people of the town were shattered, however, when it was found that no provision had been made for this item. The architect told the committee that the local chamber of commerce might request the use of the present gymnasium if one is needed here.

The building will have a seating capacity of 450 with adequate club rooms, kitchen, basement and rest rooms. A basement will be occupied by a steam heating unit, it was decided.

Those attending the meeting who signed the agreement for the new structure were Kinne, James McIver, Jr., Jack Wollert and H. O. Anderson.

The committee had been empowered to act for the post.

Bonded Debt For County Is $29.43 For Each Person

Figures Do Not Include The Bonded Indebtedness Of State

The bonded indebtedness of the governmental units in Nevada county amounted to at least $29.43 on June 30, 1937, for each man, woman and child in the county, according to figures made public by California Taxpayers' association.

Total bonded indebtedness of the county and political subdivisions amounted to $483,778 on that date, the latest for which figures are available, and was $317,000 for the school districts, $83,100 for special districts (not all such districts reporting uniformly), and $83,100 for the municipalities within the county.

This bonded indebtedness, the association pointed out, does not include the county's share of the bonded debt of the state or of the federal government, the state's indebtedness on February 1, 1938, being $188,526,000, while that of the federal government is estimated at $38,000,000,000.

CANDIDATES HERE

Among candidates in Truckee on Wednesday were Sheriff Carl Toblissen, Coroner L. R. Jefford, Dick Curneen, candidate for superintendent of schools, Arthur Hellings, out for county clerk and Ralph Deeble who is deputy under County Clerk McCormack.

Railroad Turns To Gas Station In Unique Case

So far as we know it never happened before and probably it will never happen again, but one day this week the Southern Pacific was obliged to turn to their friendly enemy, the gas station for service.

It seems the railroad's local supply of gasoline was exhausted, so rather than disturb its own methodical service, the stalled gas car was taken from the rails and pushed by several officials to the Associated Station operated by Gregory Brothers where the tank was filled and the motor then was replaced on the rails.

Truckee Utility District To Put Water In Tract

PWA Grant To Be Sought To Increase Service To Users

OWNER PAYS DISTRICT

Will Operate On Minor Scale To Start, Directors Decide

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District this week it was decided to go into the water business in a small way and supply this commodity to the Gateway Park Subdivision near the Truckee-Tahoe Wye.

R. Joseph, owner of the tract, opened last week for development, will, under terms of the agreement pay the district $1,000 for the initial work required to pipe the water from the springs above the subdivision to the business and home sites. Thereafter the service will be maintained by the district from revenues received from the users.

The arrangement is more or less temporary, according to C. Edmunds, district manager, who said that plans are being formulated to request a PWA grant to increase the service and provide a more adequate supply.

In developing the new project the district is not placing itself in any financial embarrassment, the money being paid by Joseph being sufficient for immediate needs, it was pointed out.

Power from the local utility district is being installed on the tract this week and actual construction of the first home is under way with many more prospects awaiting installation of water and power before building.

GO FOURTH — IN SAFETY

Thousands of motorists are taking to the highways for the double holiday over the Fourth of July.

Let's make it a safe and sane Fourth on the road.

Let's exercise an added bit of courtesy, season our driving with an added bit of patience, an extra ounce of caution. Surely that is small enough payment to ensure our lives, and those of other people, with protection against traffic tragedies. Let's drive carefully and come back alive!

There's grim humor to the report that the War of the Revolution resulted in the death of 83,340 persons. Of these 4040 died in battle. The remainder were killed celebrating the victory during the last 154 years.

This year's traffic death rate has been markedly lower thus far than last year's. Let's continue the good work, and go Fourth—in safety!

THIS INDEPENDENCE DAY

When a little nation of less than two and one-half million souls bravely shook its fist in the face of its parent country 162 years ago, these United States gave the world first proof America had come of age.

From a fledgling among the nations of the earth, this nation more than a century and a half later finds itself the foremost ranking power in the world, favored above all others in the vastness of its resources, in the sturdiness of its democratic traditions, in its freedom from the ills which are today wracking nations abroad.

Endowed as America is with all these blessings, the celebration of this Fourth of July turns all thoughts upon one attribute in particular—the ideal of government which had its flowering in 1776.

The vivid declaration of principles set forth by Jefferson, and speedily adopted by Congress, struck the Old World with startling, explosive force. There was boldness, confidence and revolutionary fervor in the credo of the young nation which dared to affirm that a government exists for the happiness of the people, that it derives its power not from on high, nor from the whim of a monarch, but solely from the consent of the governed.

The high ideals of government that the declaration of independence set forth are not eternal. They are not imperishable. They will survive only so long as they are guarded and cherished. Let this Independence Day be a significant and worthy reminder of that fact to all of us.

Slater of Tahoe Park from Earl Lee Kelly of the state highway department, informing her officially that Tahoe has been assured a new snow-go to be housed at Tahoe City for the coming winter.

The news was received with jubilation by all those who live at Tahoe the year round. This means no fear of sickness and operations, no more need for food and medicine shortage in isolated sections and no more worry of any sort. It means regular mail delivery and possibility of human contact during the longest months of the year with the privilege of driving a car the year round.

To Mrs. Slater goes full measure of credit for acquiring Tahoe's first full-time snowplow. She it was who started the necessary petitions, which were so heartily endorsed by all who read them and she it was who by personal and professional channels sought and received introductions to those higher-ups whose word in such matters is law. She made personal visits to the offices of Governor Merriam and Kelly and with others.

No intimation was given as to how far the plow will operate but it is believed its first duty will be to keep the Truckee-Tahoe lateral open. Kelly's telegram follows:

"I am happy indeed to announce that a new snow-go snowplow will be stationed at the Tahoe City maintenance yard which will, I am sure, provide a very satisfactory snow removal program during the coming winter for the citizens of your community."

Harold Ambrosch, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ambrosch and Gwynth Sheppard all of Glendale are summering at the old Tahoma resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kilner have moved from Homewood into their lovely new residence in the Ridge-wood tract.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Stuart of Oakland enjoyed several days of their vacation this week in the Tahoe region. Mr. Stuart is an instructor at Castlemont high school in Oakland, while Mrs. Grace D. Stuart is a teacher at the Fremont high school in that city.

Miss Florence Bosse, former manager of Vagabondia Lodge, will attempt a new venture in the field of business here this week when she opens the old Bickford house in town next to the Tavern golf links, Vagabond House is the dining room's new name replacing the Golfside Cafe.

Mrs. Emma L. Ward of San Francisco has rented one of the Nicholson cottages in Tahoe Park for the summer season. She is entertaining as her houseguests for two weeks Mr. and Mrs. William Howell and daughters Miss Peggy and Miss Doris, also of San Francisco.

Mrs. Matt Green, Mrs. N. R. Mayfield and Mrs. Spitzner visited in the bay cities for several days last week. The trial of Dick Cleverdon and Joe White of Kialua Park at Placer-ville, for unlawful cutting of trees and trespassing was put over put over until July 7 when the defense asked for additional time to look up witness and further testimony.

Two local young women the other evening went out for a horseback ride up Page Meadows way. Along the road they met another friend out for a walk. Asking for a lift, one of the riders assisted her friend to the horse's back only to meet with the animal's sternest disapproval, for he threw them both off injuring severely the former pedestrian, Helen Crver, cook at the Rt. Rev. Noel Porter's home here. Constable Harry Johanson met the party which was bringing her out to the Tavern office of Dr. C. B. Pedersen where a dozen stitches were required to close the long deep gash she received on one leg where the horse kicked her as she fell. She was also kicked in the abdomen, while the young lady rider, whose name is withheld by request, received a kick in the chest and one leg but was not badly hurt.

The Republican hoists the above names (U. S. Grant for President and A. A. Sargent for Vice-president) as the ticket which will bring the Republican party surest success. Grant is the only man for president and cannot fail to sweep the field against Tilden, or any other nominee of the Democratic party. Sargent should carry the Pacific coast and his name will completely satisfy the anti-Chinese element. Independent upon all public issues, The Republican pledges itself to support the above ticket, if nominated. Next to Sargent, Newton Booth is our candidate for the vice presidency. In local matters, The Republican adheres closely to local interests. In the matter of state, the proprietors claim the right to advocate their own views and exercise their own preferences.

Politically Speaking

by John W. Dunlap
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, June 30.—(UP)—Only a short month ago, most political observers conceded United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo clear sailing toward reelection because of his public endorsement by President Roosevelt.

It appeared certain that the three strong Democratic candidates opposing the veteran McAdoo for the Bourbon nomination would split enough votes to defeat themselves.

But politics are unpredictable.

The unexpected happened when Pierson Hall, former United States Attorney, withdrew from the race and announced his support for Sheridan Downey, running mate with Upton Sinclair on the Democratic ticket in 1934.

Hall declared his surprise withdrawal was solely to weaken the chance of McAdoo to be renominated. He said: "I feel it is my duty to subordi-

WILLIAM CASSETTARI ANNOUNCES SELF FOR D. A. POSITION

Last week, William J. Cassettari, a prominently identified attorney of the Grass Valley district announced that he would be a candidate for the office of district attorney at the forthcoming primary election on August 30.

Cassettari was raising in Nevada County and has resided here for the past 27 years. He received his early education in the Grass Valley schools and in 1929 graduated from the University of California with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and from the law school of the same university in 1932 with the degree of bachelor of laws.

In 1932, Cassettari was admitted to practice law in Nevada County and since has had his office there. He was associated with the late E. H. Armstrong until the latter's recent death.

The candidate now occupies the office of city attorney of Grass Valley and is secretary of the Nevada County Bar Association as well as being Court Commissioner of Nevada County.

A member of the County Democratic Central Committee and chairman of the Young Democrats of this county for the past three years, the candidate is active in political and civic affairs and is held in high regard by his associates.

There is no question as to the qualifications of Cassettari in being able to fulfill the duties of the office to which he aspires. Capable, honest and with a desire to serve the electorate conscientiously and well, Cassettari promises fairness to all and favor to none if elected.

nate my personal career to the success of the cause."

Hall has made no secret of his enmity for McAdoo after being dropped from his important federal position. He is in southern California and will undoubtedly be of great help to Downey, without doubt a strong campaigner and certainly a contrast in his liberal tendencies to the veteran McAdoo.

The strategy of Hall switching to Downey hinged on polls cited by Hall as giving McAdoo only 35 per cent of the Democratic vote "received largely from his own political machine."

"The issue is clear," Hall declared, "It is not the New Deal. It is not President Roosevelt or his program. The three candidates opposing McAdoo are, and always have been, in sympathy with the president's program. The issue in California is McAdooism, which, in plain language, means the abuse of the high office of U. S. Senator by McAdoo and his private associates for personal gain. The Democratic party cannot serve both the common good and McAdoo."

Overshadowed by the bitter battle between Governor Frank P. Merriam and former Socialist Upton Sinclair, for the governorship in 1934, Downey's defeat by George Hatfield for lieutenant governor was close enough to be counted as a factor in the present senatorial contest.

Downey, despite any disadvantage from having Sinclair as a running mate, polled 1,002,832 votes in the general election. Hatfield grossed only 227,683 more.

Although the figures are hardly comparable because of different conditions, from the record it may be

-California Political Review-

DROPS FROM CONTEST

Pierson M. Hall, former U. S. attorney for Southern California and former Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, last week announced his retirement from the race in favor of Sheridan Downey.

Hall gave as his reason that he believed that his being in the race might split the vote in such a manner as to give the nomination to the incumbent, Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, who had Hall replaced as attorney and with whom Hall has a deep-seated political feud.

Hall's retirement leaves four men in the field, McAdoo, Sheridan Downey, John Preston, all Democrats and Ray L. Riley and Phillip Bancroft Republicans. Riley is the outstanding candidate in the latter field.

The fact that the Democrats held only a slight lead in registration in 1932 gave McAdoo little party advantage over the field. The 1933 candidate, however, whether it be McAdoo Downey or a third aspirant, John Preston, will have a theoretical advantage over the Republican nominee because of the fact there are more than 400,000 more registered Democrats than Republicans. This preponderance is centered in strategic Los Angeles County, where there were 758,919 Democrats and only 448,109 Republicans up to June 6.

Ray L. Riley, former state controller, is conceded the leading Republican position, although Phillip Bancroft is banking on a heavy agricultural vote. Riley became known in his more than 15 years as controller and is currently a Merriam appointee on the state railroad commission.

McAdoo still holds a trump card in his "My dear Mac" letter from President Roosevelt. It remains to be seen whether the Hall-Downey gangup will give him a chance to use it.

See the political cards in The Sun for a list of announced candidates.

ANDY HOLMES WILL SEEK ELECTION TO CORONER'S OFFICE

A. M. (Andy) Holmes, who last week announced himself as a candidate for the office of coroner of Nevada County at the August 31 primary, is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office, having served four years in that capacity after an apprenticeship of 12 years under T. M. Harris as deputy coroner.

The candidate has been a resident of the county for 40 years. He was named by Gov. Frank P. Merriam to fill a vacancy on the State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers to serve an uncompleted term and was later named to a full term on the board.

At one time Holmes was president of the Coroners' Association of California. There can be no denying his qualifications for the post.

If elected, Holmes intends, in so far as possible, to give Truckee and the east end of the county an independent administration, co-operating in this respect with the W. H. Laity Funeral Home for the convenience of all residents in this part of the county.
